The formal claim hasn't been presented in a regular session of the council as yet, but ELTON McGRAW, local druggist, is seeking $10,000 from the city for injuries suffered when he mishappened into a hole at Hillcrest and Vendome streets Oct. 13 of last year.

Says he injured back, was made sick, lame and sore and suffered severe nervous condition.

The claim will read "medical costs unknown at present—supplemental claim will be filed when ascertained."

Young damsel TERRY JEAN ERCOLE, daughter of Hilltop grocery's CAESAR ERCOLE, made the met sheets this with her photographs.

The pic was a publicity stunt for a coming dog show. She and other young good-lookingers were posed with several of the canines and the SF news photos figured they looked good enough to make the public prints.

Police Officer JOHN COLEMAN rendered aid above and beyond the call of duty last week-end when he performed mid-wife duties admirably to bring a youngster into the world.

Fellow officer DEAN WOOD stood by with the ambulance.

This extraordinary effort won't hurt the coming census any.

Obituary last week on OTTO MEISSNER was in error. Should have read: Survived by two daughters—Ethel G. Appleton, 432 Bellevue, Daly City; and Mrs. C. H. Wall, Pearl City, Hawaii.

Sorry.

A 1/c ALBERT PARMISANO got home and Daly City's high man on the golf totem pole, didn't get an invite this year to the much-moaned and talked about BING CROSBY tourney.

Oh well, some people didn't get a duca to the British coronation, either.

Howzabout nobody's giving blood anymore? Usually we get a weekly report of DC residents who have donated.

In two weeks now, apparently the only citizen with any to spare was Mrs. WILLIAM VERNES of Colma.

STANFORD HANNAH, Jeff hi chief exec, was in San Quentin yesterday.

Proselyting for next year's football team?

No, just assaying some inmate-made furniture for the new cafeteria addition.

PRESS SEARCH FOR COLMA RUSTLERS

A county sheriff's office investigation is still in full swing in an attempt to track down western-style mavericks who rustled 130 hogs from the Rossi Hog Co. ranch near Colma last weekend.

The porkers were valued at more than $6000 by their owners, Armelio Rossi, 727 Maple street, South San Francisco, and Albert Agresti, 700 Cayuga avenue, San Francisco, who discovered the theft.

It is believed the truck used to transport the animals was one belonging to Victor Drago, 163 East Moltke street, Daly City.

Drago said he parked the truck at 590 Lisbon street, San Francisco, after washing it out.

The following morning, he said, there were hog droppings in the truck, leading to the belief that the rustlers might have used his truck at one point during their daring getaway.

Sheriff's officers are of the opinion the job was done by persons well-acquainted with the operations of the Rossi ranch.

POLICE EXPANSION program that will get underway at the city hall this month is outlined in above diagram. ROOM A—main police office, to be used for radio transmitter, teletype, fire alarm, burglar alarms, communications, records, licenses, night booking and general police information.

Census Moved Up: Interviews Monday

A sudden change in the U. S. department of commerce plans means that Daly City's census will start next week, City Administrator Dan Andersen announced yesterday.

Mrs. Catherine Gaston will arrive here Monday to supervise the local population check that is expected to show a count in excess of 25,000 persons here.

Andersen received word this week from the Los Angeles bureau of the commerce department that the census was to be moved up.

Originally, as announced in THE RECORD last week, plans called for a February census.

Mrs. Gaston will be in the city hall Monday morning at 9 o'clock to interview persons interested in being enumerators.

Persons aiding in the census will be paid at the rate of six cents per name. Andersen said anyone 21 years of age or older is eligible to apply for a position as enumerator.

This money is to be paid by the city. The population count is expected to cost Daly City in the neighborhood of $3000.

An estimated $70,000 annually in additional state tax moneys will be realized by the city should the 25,000 population prediction be borne out.

The last Daly City census, taken in 1950, showed a population of 15,191 here. Development of the Westlake area and new subdivisions will probably swell this figure by 10,000 persons, local officials believe.

The census which is to start Monday will be in progress from two to four weeks, Andersen said.

HORSE IS LOSER IN BANG-UP WITH VEHICLE

When a man bites a dog, that's news, and by the same criteria when a horse rams into a car, that's news.

This is precisely what happened Saturday afternoon on Alemany boulevard, with disastrous results to motorist, rider and horse.

According to police records, Peter David Miller, 56, of Rockaway beach, was travelling east on Alemany when said horse stepped off the highway and rammed the car.

Miller was taken to Junipero Serra hospital with abrasions and lacerations. Rider of the horse, Miguel A. Saavedra, 34, of San Francisco was a little worse off, receiving a fractured nose, losing several front teeth and suffering a possible skull fracture, while the horse fared even less well, being pronounced dead by local police at the scene of the incident.

At present, the police district is limited to Broadmoor proper. The move to make the police district boundaries the same as the fire district, which includes Serrano Tract and most of unincorporated Colma was prompted by the desire to lessen Broadmoor police district property taxes.

At the same time it is hoped by Broadmoor residents that the panding the police district will make possible the maintenance of a larger force and more equipment to serve the area.

Off-duty Broadmoor police officers will provide rides to the polls in private cars for those in need of transportation. Those seeking a ride should call PL. 5-3838.

BROADMOOR POLICE DISTRICT EXPANSION ON BALLOT THURSDAY

It is estimated that the police district will have an additional $13000 operating revenue if the annexation passes.

The annexation must be approved by more than 50 per cent of the Broadmoor district voters and more than 50 per cent of the voters in the area up for annexation.

OFFICIALS MEET MONDAY TO MAP WESTLAKE PARK

In an effort to speed work on the westlake park and clubhouse the city council, recreation commission, administrator and engineer will meet Monday night in the city hall at 8 p.m. to formulate plans for the projects.

Engineering problems, park facilities and a site for the clubhouse, will be among the matters discussed. One of the problems engineers must solve is the creek that now flows through the proposed park site.

The planning commission Tuesday night gave the go-ahead to Ed and Eleanor Garibaldi for developing property in the School House Land association for use by a national candy manufacturing concern.

The Garibaldis seek to have the property, Lot 10, Block 5, a n d the northerly 30 feet of Lot 9, a n d industrial. The area is now in a C-1 classification, light commercial.

According to Sanford Vickers, secretary of the commission, the Garibaldis plan to provide ample off-street parking for the proposed plant. An estimated 30 persons will be employed by the company.

Garibaldi was asked to be present at the next planners meeting to give the group more information as to the type of building to be constructed and provisions for off-street parking.

The commission also approved application of J. H. Mohr for zoning Cabbage Patch property, now up for annexation, to industrial status. Mohr plans to operate a painters' materials store house on the southern Daly City property.

Hearing was held on the property of Langford-Sanguinetti and Kirkpatrick on Allemany street, and a recommendation was forwarded to the council that the land be re-zoned from R-3 to C-1. There were no written or oral protests.

Application on Antonio and Annie Vallera for re-zoning Castle Tract Homestead from R-1 to R-3 was posted for public hearing.

Callan Realty Company's application for zoning of property in the $75 Homestead to C-1 was approved and hearing was also set on this matter.

The commissioners discussed a proposed subdivision ordinance which would bring about many changes in the present statute and anticipated a future meeting with the council on the subject.

Child Suffers Minor Injuries When Hit By Daly City Vehicle

Minor injuries were suffered by a five-year-old Daly City child Friday when he was hit by a city water department vehicle.

Carl Timmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Timmons, 20 Forrest Grove drive, was hit when he ran out from behind a parked car in an alleyway near his home.

Driver of the city vehicle, Harry Herman Krohn, 40, of 331 Santa Barbara avenue, said that he was pulling out from the rear of 21 Park Plaza when the child ran in front of the truck.

The boy at first complained of pains in his left knee. Later, after examination at Kaiser foundation hospital his injuries were declared only minor.

Krohn was not cited.

PG&E SUBSTATION GOES IN SERVICE

A million-dollar substation, with a special tower line and switching facilities to feed it, have gone into service for the growing Daly City and adjacent Coastal areas, Pacific Gas and Electric Company's new San Francisco division manager, Harry A. Lee, announced today.

The project, which provides a central distribution source for more than 50,000 kilowatts of energy, becomes the power center for Daly City and the coastal communities from Pacific Manor and Sharn Park to Pedro Valley.

Included in the work were the Daly City Substation costing $1,083,000, a twin-circuit, 110,000-volt, steel tower line from Martin Substation (near the Cow Palace) to Daly City, costing $114,000, and additional switching facilities at the Martin Station costing $163,000. The Martin Substation is a main local pool for power brought into San Francisco from Bay Area steam plants and from the Sierra Nevada, also from Station P Steam Plant at Hunter's Point.

Building of the Daly City Substation has the additional advantage, Lee pointed out, of shortening the transmission distance to the Sharn Park area by about five miles. Heretofore, the power for the coastal communities was relayed out of Martin and Bayshore (Continued on Page 2)

BUSINESS HEAVY AT CITY MEET

Two Annexations Top Lengthy Council Agenda

A lengthy agenda at Monday's city council meeting was topped by reading of two ordinances that will annex Cabbage Patch and $75 Homestead property to Daly City.

The ordinance to annex Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 in Block 40, Abbey Homestead association (Cabbage Patch) was introduced for first reading. The property is bounded by Market, Atlanta and Price streets.

Second reading was held on legislation annexing portions of Blocks 5, 15, 12, 11, 10, 7 and 4 in the $75 Homestead subdivision.

Also up for second reading was an ordinance to vacate portions of Northgate avenue in Westlake Unit No. 5E.

In other business Monday, the council:

1. Rejected bids on the Brunswick street retaining wall and re-advertised the job. New bids will be opened February 8.

2. Approved PG&E and PT&T contract to install, replace, maintain and use underground wires and cables for electricity and telephone installations to the Daly City Firehouse No. 5 in Westlake and the adjacent park and playground area.

3. Granted necessary easements to the state highway department to cut and fill slopes for installation of the Alemany signal.

4. Authorized payment of $9,612 to W. A. Moroney from fire bond construction fund for completion of work on the Westlake firehouse.

5. Held first reading on ordinance re-zoning Lot 4, Block 15, and portion of Lot 3, Block 15, on Alemany street south of Market from R-2 to C-1. The re-zoning is sought by Theresa Altieri.

6. Approved first reading of ordinance re-zoning property in Westlake Subdivision No. 3 from R-2 to C-1.

7. Read for the first time ordinance re-zoning land in Westlake Unit No. 5E from C-1 to R-1.

8. Held first reading on ordinance re-zoning Lot 2, Block B, Mission Street Tract, from R-1 to R-3. Application was entered by Tom Mitchell.

9. Introduced ordinance zoning Block 3, Lots 28 and 39, $75 Homestead, to C-1. The classification change is sought by Dorothy Garibaldi White.

Motorists Urged To Register Early At Daly City Office

Garland Bear, manager of the local motor vehicle office at 6165 Mission street, this week urged motorists to renew their auto registration early before the February 4 deadline.

The Daly City office expects to handle 16,000 registrations this year, an increase of some 5000 over last year.

To date, Bear said, only 4200 drivers have taken care of their renewals.

He anticipated a last minute rush, with accompanying congestion and delay, and said motorists should come in as early as possible to avoid the deadline crowd.

Deadline will be midnight, February 4. The office is now open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, and until noon Saturdays. A staff of four persons is handling the registrations.

Santa Barbara Ave. Residents May Call State Bldg. Officer

Santa Barbara street residents, fired over the granting of a building permit to a neighborhood structure they term "unsafe," said this week they may call in the state building inspector to hear their arguments.

Three weeks ago a group of the residents protested at the council meeting that the foundation of a three-story structure at 416 Santa Barbara avenue, owned by H. R. Miller, 279 Irvington street, was dangerous.

The protesters appeared before the council again this week to request that the council examine the foundation.

They brought with them a chunk of the foundation to show the council as evidence.

Santa Barbara residents who gathered at the city hall Monday were: Mrs. Doris Klemz, 421; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cross, 445; Mrs. Jessie Moroney, 417; and David McKee, 420.

Councilmen Paul Green and Edward Dennis said they would make another inspection of the premises.

According to Mrs. Klemz, Dennis showed up Tuesday and agreed that the foundation was faulty. He told the protesters that he would speak to Building Inspector George Hoeman about the matter.

Mrs. Klemz said later, "We'll see what they're going to do now before taking any further action. We might call in the state building inspector to have a look at the foundation. Why—you can just take that foundation and crumble it in your hands."

Miller is currently doing repair work on the third floor of the contested building, with plans for eventually using the top floor for dwellings.

COURTS IN QUANDRY ON NEW TAX

Levy On Vehicle Fines Appears Unenforceable

Collection of a state sur-tax on vehicle code violation fines in Judge Thomas L. Bocci's municipal court may become increasingly difficult in light of developments this week.

The new state law that became operative January 1 stipulates that an additional fine of $1 shall be added for each $20 in penalties levied for vehicle code violations. The only catch is the law, in its wording, sets down no method of enforcement.

At Judge Bocci's court, which serves Daly City, no trouble has been encountered yet. The court is taking the stand that if the violators refuse to pay the state tax they may appear in court for trial before the judge.

The muni court will refuse to accept fine money if the extra state levy is not paid.

However, in southern county muni court the judge has refused to levy the tax, complaining, "Why should we penalize the people who don't read the newspapers?" meaning by this that those reading the papers are aware the fine is unenforceable.

The law was tested in San Francisco this week, with a motorist being sent to jail, later released on habeas corpus. It is believed he is entertaining thoughts of a false arrest suit.

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi said the local department hadn't come in contact with effects of the law yet, since no bench warrants have been issued since its inauguration.

But Petrocchi said it is inevitable that someone will contest the law. He said if any violators refuse to pay the state tax when the warrant is served, "we won't arrest them."

Petrocchi said the only way they could attempt to enforce payment of the extra money was if the sur-tax was listed on the warrant. Even then, the danger of a false arrest suit would be apparent.

Only solution to the quandry seems to be the rescinding of the law by the state legislature, or amending the law so that some method of enforcement is offered.

Appointment of Raymond T. Whitney of Linda Mar as replacement for Thomas J. Callan on the Jefferson Union High school board of trustees was revealed today by James Tormey, county superintendent of schools.

The newly-named trustee's term expires July 1 of this year.

The appointment was made on unanimous recommendation of the citizen's nominating committee, composed of John Newton, Mrs. Mildred McGeein, Elio Fontana, Arnold Panella, Thomas Quickert, Mrs. Eleanor West and J. L. Capurro.

Whitney, 46, resides at 1051 Rio Vista, Linda Mar, with his wife, Henrietta, and two daughters, Carol, 15, a student at Jefferson High, and Joan, 12, who attends the seventh grade at Laguna-Salada school.

The new Jefferson trustee has served on the Laguna-Salada school board the past five years, acting as clerk of the board since 1950. He was first appointed to a trusteeship there and later was elected to the post.

Whitney formerly lived in Sharp Park and was active in the Lions organization there.

During the war years 1943-46 he served with the U. S. Navy in the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. He now holds a Lieutenant, J.G., commission in the reserves.

Whitney is assistant manager at the Standard Plating Works in San Francisco. Before taking that position, he served three years as navigating officer with the American President Lines.

In naming Whitney to the board, the nominating committee considered the following factors: "His experience as a trustee in the Laguna-Salada elementary district; education background and interest in civic affairs; and the advisability of having the rapidly-growing coastside represented on the high school board."

On learning of his appointment, Whitney said, "I appreciate the honor the nominating committee has given me, and I hope I can justify their choice. It is a privilege to be able to serve on the Jefferson Union High school board."

JEFF ELEMENTARY CAN'T GIVE AWAY SCHOOL PROPERTY

The Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees last week found itself in the unique position of not being able to give property away.

Trustees held a special meeting last Thursday night to open bids for purchase of three houses on the Crocker school site. The district seeks to have the houses removed to make way for a multipurpose room.

Not a single bid was submitted. However, board members were not too surprised at this pass of events. Earlier inquiry of housewreckers, movers and used lumber dealers revealed that it would cost in the neighborhood of $1500 to $2000 to have the structures torn down.

Apparently, the cost of labor and insurance greatly offsets the salvage value of the building materials in the houses.

The board finds itself in a quandry as to how to dispose of the houses. According to H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the district, there are legal restrictions against the board giving away school property. Meanwhile the property needs to be protected against vandalism and theft lest a nuisance and safety hazard is created.

At present, the trustees are awaiting a decision from the district attorney's office as to disposal of the buildings.

San Francisco Man Is Found Dead Here In Car

A 62-year-old San Francisco man was found dead in his auto Sunday by local police. Identified as Emil Edward Rehn, 49 Walter street, the man was discovered in his car by Officer Jerry Galindo.

His auto was parked on the shoulder of Junipero Serra boulevard, about 50 yards south of School street.

Galindo said he thought the man was dead, but Rehn was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital by the local ambulance. He was declared dead on arrival.

Cause of his death was believed to have been a heart attack. Apparently the man suffered the attack while driving, and crashed into a highway sign at the corner of Junipero Serra and 88th street, police said.

WITH NO PLACE TO GO

Fortunately, for Daly City, residents of Brisbane this week turned down incorporation for their community.

You can be sure, however, that future efforts will be made to make Brisbane a city.

In event that the move is successful, how will incorporation affect Daly City?

The general consensus is that, taking a long-term view, the results won't be good.

If the citizens of Brisbane some day decide to incorporate, Daly City may eventually lose some choice land that otherwise might come within her boundaries.

Chief cause for worry is the fact that a city of Brisbane could encroach on Daly City's last outlet for expansion—the 3600 acres of Crocker Estate land to the east.

Up to now the city's logical annexation pattern moved in a southward direction, where there was plenty of land that could be developed with relatively little cost.

New tracts in southern Daly City and the Colma area have now devoured nearly all the available space.

Yet Daly City must continue to grow.

The only outlet for this growth remains to the east. To date, however, it was considered development of the Crocker land would be prohibitive in cost.

Nevertheless, the facts must be faced. This land will eventually have to be utilized.

Brisbane's incorporation poses a danger for Daly City, in that if that city gets the jump on annexation proceedings, Daly City will be left out in the cold with nothing to thank but lethargy.

We understand that Daly City officials have talked with members of the estate from time to time relative to annexation.

As yet, no results of these confabs are apparent.

We have learned from W. F. Morton, secretary of the estate, that "It has long been anticipated that a portion of the Crocker property would be enveloped by Daly City."

Even the estate concedes that this annexation is imminent yet no tangible action on the part of the city is in evidence.

Lying in the northeast section of the estate is a choice area known as the Guadalupe valley, 34 acres of land ideal for industrial development, the key to maintaining the city on an even financial keel.

At this location, a westerly wind prevails, which would preclude smog arising to smite this area. Railroad transportation is at close access, as is a modern highway.

Naturally, the Crocker Estate is not going to just "give" this land to Daly City. There will have to be some adjustments made—tax-wise.

The city is going to have to sit down with the estate executives and present them with an offer that is realistic enough to attract the lands to Daly City.

Should Brisbane incorporate, and the neophyte officials be anxious and zealous enough to take such action themselves, Daly City stands a fat chance of being left out in the rain with no place to go for shelter.

The negative voters in Brisbane have given Daly City a breather. Now it's up to the city fathers to jump in with both feet and see what Daly City's chances are for moving eastward over into the Crocker Estates "frontier."

Toast Of The Town

(Ed. note: The following column, courtesy of the F.O.E. Auxiliary News, will be a regular monthly feature of THE RECORD):

Virginia Tabarez was matron of honor at the wedding of her sister, Betty Rivas to Mr. Carlos Sanchez. Over 500 friends gathered at Guadalupe Hall for the wedding reception.

Did Eileen DeBano and Jackie Malinoff have a feather under their skirts during drill practice? Something ticked them.

Phyllis Lane received MINK for Christmas. A real mink collar and cuff set.

We are sorry to hear that May Baker is not feeling well. The doctor ordered her to limit activity and take it easy. We hope she can join us soon.

The Auxiliary extends its deepest sympathy to Ed and Frances Nienstiel, upon the death of his father.

On Christmas Day Pat Arnaudo played lady. Her sister, Irene Scallv, a recent bride, prepared her first Christmas dinner.

Mildred Kalinin received a shorty gown from her secret pal. She considered it pretty enough to go Christmas calling in—bet she didn't have the nerve.

Jean Blankenhorn surprised Al-berta Diebel with a loaf of bread and antipasto for a late T.V. snack. Such an odd Christmas package! She received a diamond ring from Fdnah Mona. The glitter was dime store variety.

Edrie Summers' talent was evident in the mural for the Aerie's New Year party. For all those who didn't see it—was a stork carrying the Baby New Year over the city skyline.

Pat Arnaudo, Marge Lynch, Mary Voboril and Margaret Backlund tapered off their Canasta games over the holidays.

Marge Clark is to be commended for her industriousness. She sends post cards each month to all Whist players.

Dolly Davidson's friends all gathered Dec. 29th to see her make her T.V. preview on the Schlage Lock program—all they saw was her sister-in-law.

Marv Voboril is a wonderful Publicity Chairman. Donated $2 to advertise the Whist Party in The Record and Shopping News. Paid off—our last party was very successful.

Rose Watson was a mighty anxious bride at her first dinner party. She shouldn't have worried—'he table was lovely, the dinner delicious and the guests delighted.

Edrie Summers had 14 in for Christmas dinner. The turkey was so good that nobody missed the vegetables or the jello salad that was left standing in the refrigerator.

Her granddaughter, Jeri Lynn, was all set to enjoy her dinner attire in her new white fur hat and muff—but her mother protested.

Donna Almutist was pleased when her family journeyed down from Portland, Ore., to spend the holidays with her.

Mildred Kalinin is a most generous member. Donated 12 pairs of blazer socks and a carton of Hershey bars for the Christmas bags.

Sorry to hear Mrs. Wheeler is ill—had a slight attack.

Marie Wilkes' son, Don, student at Lowell High, was awarded the Mike Vayne Cup as the "most outstanding athlete of the year." Received his football letter Dec. 9 at school assembly.

Jerry Stahl spent her Christmas day taking it easy. Her son, Dick, and daughter, Judy, prepared the dinner. Jerry had the misfortune to fall and land on one of her presents. She got it in the end!

Arlene Summers was the first visitor Stella Nelson had at St. Joseph's. Arlene was working in surgery and rushed upstairs, when the announcement came.

Margaret Harner's Christmas celebration was a breakfast and dinner for family and friends. Among those present were Alberta and Erich Diebel, Mildred and Herb Kalinin and Jack and Ednah Mona.

All the gals on the bowling teams were reluctant to lay aside their bowling balls for the season. They had to wrestle with Christmas balls instead.

We can sympathize with Bea Stver who had to give up bowling completely. Doctor's orders!

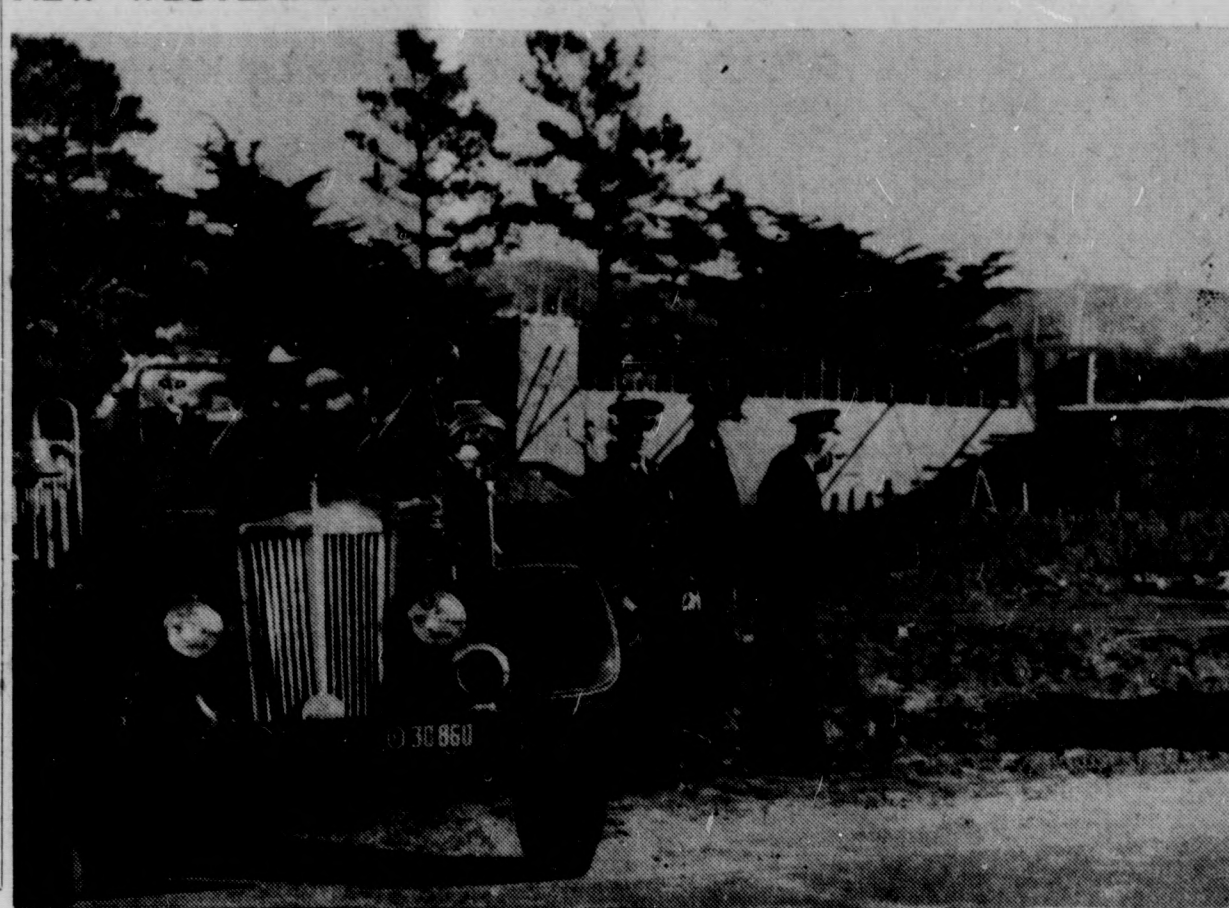

"Gus" of the Central Club, not only roots for his team members but wines and dines them after the Friday night bowling sessions.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

This column has long bemoaned double features due to the fact that in the greater number of bills utterly disparate films are coupled in horrible misalliance, in the deluded belief that if the potential audience doesn't like one, it will at least come to see the other. The basic fallacy of this line of thinking seems so elementary as to make it scarcely worth the while to mention, yet film listings continually show double bills which exhibit an almost criminal disregard of what is likely to go with what.

A pleasant exception to this depressing rule is the bill scheduled at the NOB HILL, through the early part of next week: "Kind Hearts and Coronets," with the ubiquitous Alec Guinness (and this is one time when a word which I dislike and ordinarily avoid is most appropriate), topped off with a technicolor Peach Melba, starring Patrice Munsel as the diva.

It has become commonplace to state that a screen biography of a notable seldom gives more than a polite nod to the facts, and the movie reviewer can display his erudition at practically no risk by stating loftily that any resemblance between the real and the reel is so obscure as to be non-existent.

In the case of "Melba" it is wise to remember that a movie must follow a certain pattern: the boy must meet the girl, and the more unusual the circumstances the better; their love must not go smoothly and should you further complicate the plot by making the girl a great artist, well, the ending is such a foregone conclusion that it has attained the stature of inevitability. This should in no way distract from your enjoyment of the present offering's generous servings of the stock coloratura arias, Una Voce Poeta Fa from "The Barber," Cara Nome from "Rigoletto," and the Mad Scene from "Lucia." In addition there are intriguing snatches of such seldom produced works as "Norma" (represented by the first few bars of Casta Diva), "La Sonnambula" and "L'Africaine." Violetta Elvin of the Sadler's Wells makes a brief appearance in a snippet of ballet which, if I remember correctly, was unfortunately ignored in the local reviews.

"Kind Hearts and Coronets" is one of the earliest Guinness' comedies, and as a companion for "Melba" this lightly told tale of seven, or was it eight, murders is just about perfect. It had been quite some time since I had seen it and although the element of surprise was lacking, it was well worth the second viewing, something that can seldom be said of any comedy. Having devoted so much space to "Melba" there is little left to spend on "Kind Hearts," although the latter was my reason for going out that evening. "Melba" is not a great film but it is full of great music. "Kind Hearts," depicting not one but eight perfect crimes, is great comedy and great Guinness. As a team they are unbeatable.

And the NOB HILL has its SRO sign out to prove it!

Fremont Peak, in San Luis Obispo county, is the point on which Capt. John C. Fremont raised the American flag March 6, 1856.

S.M.J.C. NEWS NOTES

KCSM-FM will beam to its listening audience several new programs, some of which started this week. Monday found the first of these new National Association of Educational Broadcasters' taped shows being aired. Entitled "They Fought Alone," this program deals with people who have fought for the freedom to learn; adventurous dramatic stories of men and women throughout history who fought for academic freedoms. This program, of which there are thirteen in all, will be heard every Monday afternoon at 4:30.

Other shows to begin will be "Patrioscript," a fifteen minute dramatic program to be heard every Tuesday afternoon at 2:15, followed at 2:30 by a 30-minute documentary program entitled "New England Renaissance." On Wednesday at 4:30 a thirty minute news-talk program will be aired entitled, "Report from Asia." Two more fifteen minute programs are scheduled, one for Thursday, at 2:15, and the other on Friday at 2:15.

Thursday's show will be "Torch-bearers," stories dealing with famous blind leaders in the world's history. The series has been approved by the American Foundation for the Blind, New York City. It is written and narrated by Grever Ziemer, Director of Public Education of the Foundation, which is a national agency serving as a clearinghouse for blind people the world over. The purpose of this series is to reveal what normal, effective, and fascinating lives blind persons have led.

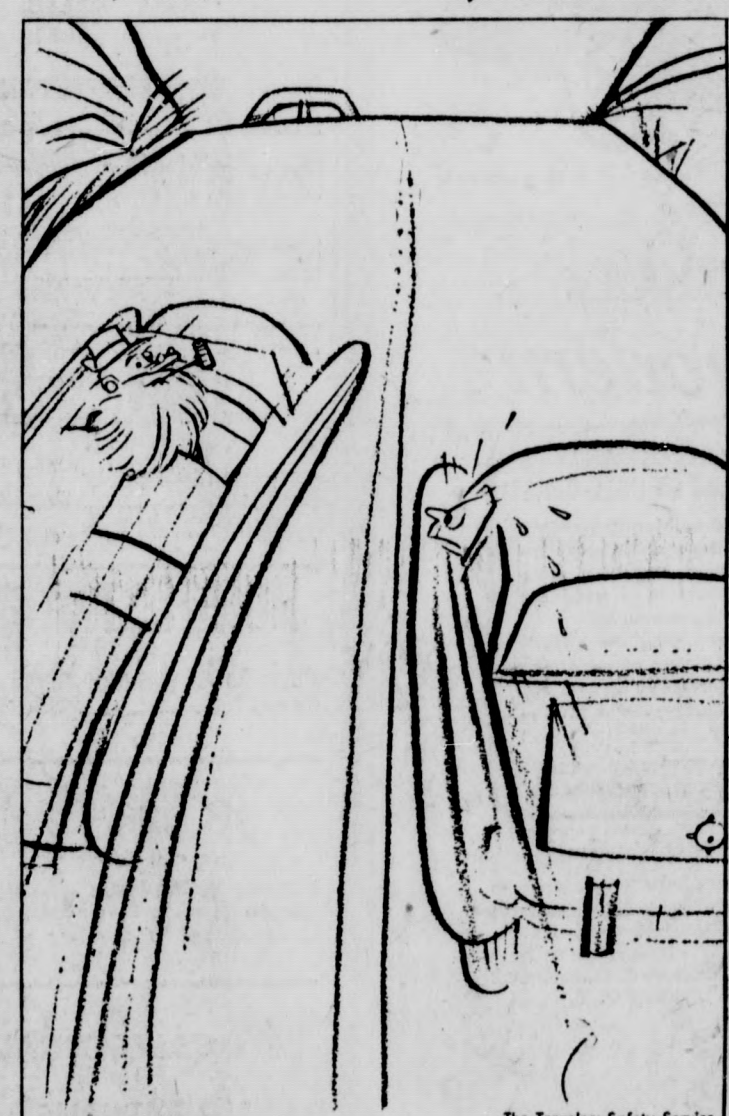

Friday's program will be "Folklore of Indiana," a documentary program. All other programs will remain the same times as usual. KCSM-FM will add more programs as the weeks go by.

President Elton E. Hildreth today expressed the appreciation of the College to Mrs. Ada Nelson, President, and Mrs. Dee Williams, Service Chairman, of the Sororities Club for this generous and worthwhile contribution. The scholarship fund and awards are the service project of the Burlingame-San Mateo Sororities Club for this year. While the College has received generous scholarships from other local organizations, this one is different in that it is to be awarded for continued study at the College rather than for upper division study at a four-year college after graduation from San Mateo Junior College.

Safety News From Your Local Police

Approved type flashing turning signals on both private and commercial vehicles can be used as caution light to warn approaching traffic when a vehicle is disabled and standing on or near a highway.

The California State Automobile Association reports that a new law, effective Sept. 9th, 1953, makes it legal to use flashing turn signals as a warning device when an automobile or truck is stalled or stopped in or near the path of traffic movement.

In the case of commercial vehicles, however, the blinking turn signals—at least two in front and two in the rear—are to be used between the time of the breakdown and the time it takes the driver to set up flares, lanterns, reflectors or warning lights at a distance of approximately a hundred feet in advance of and to the rear of the truck.

The truck's turn signals may be kept on, but they cannot be used in place of the warning devices after a sufficient interval has elapsed for the driver to set them up in the required places. Private passenger vehicles, however, may use turn signals without employing other warning devices.

Prizes Offered For TB Competition

Two competitions, each carrying a cash award of $150, were announced today by Superior Judge Edmund Scott, president of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis Association.

One, the 6th annual Higby Memorial Award, will be presented for the best paper on the non-medical aspects of tuberculosis control, and the other, the 4th annual Trudeau Society Award, will be given for the best paper on any clinical, laboratory, or epidemiological aspect of tuberculosis. The awards are presented by the California Tuberculosis and Health Association and the California Trudeau Society, respectively.

Judge Scott pointed out that any resident of the state may submit papers for either competition. "While we anticipate that most of the papers will come from those with medical training," he said, "past winners of the Higby Award have included several housewives and former tuberculosis patients."

Deadline for submitting papers is March 1, and Judge Scott requested that those planning to enter either contest contact the San Mateo County TB Association, DI 3-6274, for details on the awards.

Square Dancers Invited To "March Of Dimes" Dance

All square dancers are invited to attend the "March of Dimes" dance to be held in the Burlingame recreation center, Burlingame, tomorrow (Saturday). Dancing will be from 8 to midnight, and refreshments will be served free.

Fourteen popular Peninsula callers will be on hand to insure the dancers a wonderful time. The list includes: Peg Almond, Jack McKay, Ed Kremers and Randy Randolph, all of San Francisco; Chic Burgess of South San Francisco; Frank Bisley and Jack Wedemeyer of San Mateo; Clyde Davis of Rockaway Beach; Brad Sonderman and Bill Roberts of Millbrae; Durward Lockett of San Bruno; Don Newport of Menlo Park; and Ray Willets of Redwood City.

Red Fuller of San Francisco will act as M.C. and his Burlingame square dance class will act as hosts and hostesses.

Goods valued at $45,790,629 were imported through the San Francisco Customs District in 1952 from Colombia.

COUNTY TAX BASE PER PERSON IS UP $33 OVER 1953

Property tax base per person in San Mateo county this year averages $1,463, compared with $1,430 last year and $909 for 1949-50, California Taxpayers' association reported today.

This year, per capita valuation of property in the county is 60.9 per cent higher than it was for 1949-50.

Total taxable value of property in the county for 1953-54 is 108 per cent greater than in 1949-50. This year's valuation is $445,282,473, compared with $214,141,281 for 1949-50.

Population of the county at January, 1954, is 29.2 per cent greater than the 1950 census figure. January, 1954, population is estimated at 304,400 compared with the 235,659 April, 1950, census population.

Statewide, the taxable value of property averages $1,402 per capita for this year, compared with $1,362 for 1952-53, and $1,250 for 1949-50, the association found.

Per capita assessed value in California for 1953-54 is 12.2 per cent greater than the 1949-50 taxable value per person.

Total taxable value throughout California for local purposes for 1953-54 is $17,170,119,835, up 30 per cent from the $13,227,731,114 total for 1949-50. For 1952-53, total valuation was $16,107,548,255.

Population of California for January, 1954, is estimated at 12,244,290, up 15.7 per cent from the 10,586,223 reported by the 1950 census.

"Property tax base is the backbone of the local government revenue structure in California—a backbone which is increasing in strength faster than the increase in population statewide and in many counties," the association pointed out.

"This means that every penny of local tax rate levied brings in relatively more per person than it did in 1949-50—a factor which should be kept in the foreground in local budget and tax rate discussions in the coming months," the Taxpayers association declared.

Your Neighbors And Mine

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

School has now resumed and the teachers after a well deserved rest have now taken over all our little problems. The children were all glad to get back for the first day and by this time are looking forward to Easter vacation. Winter is supposed to be with us but my cherry tree says it is spring. Believe it or not there are blossoms on it in January. We have had most beautiful weather during the winter—too bad we can't have it when we are supposed to.

Little BOBBY MILLER, aged 4 months, is a very unhappy little boy. At that age one does not quite understand why he should have his life complicated with a cold. He has had the flu and it is hoped he will be his cheerful self soon.

An announcement arrived in the mail last week. It was an invitation to the reception being held in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of MR. and MRS. F. ABST. They are old friends of mine and the parents of MR. and MRS. R. E. NEGERBON who resided in our town for a long time before deserting us for the peninsula. Congratulations and best wishes for many more years of happiness are extended by all the neighbors.

Being quite ill last week with the flu was MRS. PAULINE DAY of Los Banos avenue. From last reports she is feeling better now but is still quite weak. Take it easy, Pauline, all your neighbors miss seeing you and are waiting for you to get better. We miss your friendly smile and cheery greeting as we go up the hill each day.

News and Views

News arrived last week of the passing of MR. THURSTON BENTLEY, a former resident of our town for many years. He grew up in Daly City, residing on San Diego avenue, and attended the local schools. He graduated from Jefferson High in 1930 and is remembered by his classmates as a rising young chemist. He lived in Redwood City, and was married and the father of three children. The sympathies of all the neighbors are extended at this time to the Bentley family.

The Wandering Harlans (FOOTIE and BUD) are getting in the mood to wander again. While still in Rocking Horse Ranch, Arizona, they are turning their thoughts toward home. As soon as the weather clears a bit they will again pack up their duffel bags and be on the road—this time headed for home. I still wouldn't plan on seeing them too soon as all they have to do is see a place that interest them and they will light and set awl.

Last week President ELEANOR SORENSON, and LORRAINE SCHNEIDER, BONNIE ELLENWOOD, CLARA POKET, LEONA LOMBARDI and ETHEL DORN, all of Old Glory Post and Auxiliary 2044, attended the San Mateo Santa Clara Counties Council meeting at Palo Alto. Moving pictures of the Veteran's Home for Children in Grand Rapids, Mich., were shown. All those who didn't see these pictures will have the opportunity to see them at a repeat performance at the next regular meeting.

Congratulations are in order this week for MR. and MRS. CHARLES MALANDINO of East Vista avenue. Their first child, a boy, was born December 23rd. DENNIS MICHAEL MALANDINO tipped the scales at 9 lbs. 3 ozs.

MRS. MAY BAKER of Vista Grande avenue has a problem. Seems people just love May's garbage cans. A few months ago her garbage can lid was stolen. May went out and bought a new can. She was very careful to always take off the lid when she put the can out on Monday nights. What happened? Last week someone walked off with the garbage can. Now May has one old can and one new lid, neither of which match the other. She is willing to try and match up the cans anytime someone lets her know where they are.

Services

SGT. TONY HENESLEY of the U.S.A.F. paid a surprise ten-day visit to see his wife and new daughter last week. He has now left for his base in Illinois where he will be for awhile. Sgt. Tony will be home again soon for a final furlough before going overseas. He leaves for Okinawa in February.

P.F.C. GEORGE CONSTANTIN of Korea is now out of the hospital. He has been in for almost a month but has now returned to duty. He is serving with an artillery outfit with Uncle Sam's Army. CPL. CLYDE BARNES of the U. S. Army is a happy man these days. He has received his discharge and is now on his way home. While in the service he spent much time in our town and has made many friends. He will return to Auburn, Wash., where he has promised to write and let us know how things go.

How happy can one get? MRS. RUTH PETTY (RUTH DEAN) welcomed home her husband, SEAMAN JAMES PETTY of the U. S. Navy, who will receive his honorable discharge soon. They plan on setting up housekeeping just as soon as they can find a house to keep.

CAPT. HENRY ALBERT STEELE, son of MR. and MRS. JOHN I. STEELE of Brunswick street, was heard from this past week. The captain is the boss of a great big ship, the U.S.S. Ocklawaha, which has been in Mediterranean waters. He has been gone for over a year but is expected home in February when the ship is slated to be put in drydock. Captain Steele was borne in Daly City, attended O.L.P.H. school and Jefferson High. He is married, his wife at the present time visiting Mr. and Mrs. Steele.

HILLCREST CIRCLE No. 143, U.A.O.D. received a letter of thanks from the boys in Letterman hospital last week. This letter was one that they can point to with just pride. The boys were truly grateful for all that the ladies had done for them during the past year.

CPL. JAMES WILLIAM HAWKINS is another of the boys who saw service near enough to us to be a welcome visitor in the home of one of the neighbors. He worked as a Medical Corpsman at Letterman hospital and spent a lot of his spare time in our town which he will never forget. He will receive his discharge this week and will be on his way back to his home in North Carolina.

OLD GLORY POST AUXILIARY No. 2044 is having a dance with JOHNNY DEGLIANTONI and his boys to provide the music. It will be held in the Memorial building on January 30th and the tickets will be either ten dimes or one dollar. There was a beautiful wedding held last week. MISS GRACE LOUISE SPRAGUE became the bride of MR. DALE URIA at St. Matthew's Lutheran church at an evening ceremony with the Rev. Orvil J. Martin officiating. There will be a more detailed description of this affair as soon as they send me the picture.

There seems to be lots of sickness and colds among the neighbors. The weather has changed from a balmy June to a real nice rainy winter. Could be that the rain will provide the answer to the colds. Let's hope so. There have been some of the boys coming home this week and next week I will have news of some of them who will be leaving. Until next week then—I'll be waiting to hear from you. Bye now.

Sympathy of all the neighbors is extended today to the Brush family. Mrs. Mary Josephine Brush, long-time resident of our town since 1909, passed away quietly in her sleep Tuesday morning. She leaves, besides her husband, Albert A. Brush, four sons, Albert, William Allen, Charles and the late Joseph Brush; nine grandchildren, Albert James, USAF, William Arthur, John Phillip, Raymond Allen, Marilyn Phyllis, Michael Allen, Robert Walter, Kathleen Ann and Janet Arlene Brush; a brother, Joseph C. Gargan; and a sister, Miss Ellen Gargan.

Mrs. Brush had resided in Daly City at the same home on 443 Niantic avenue for the past 45 years. She was a well-known, much-admired personality in the local community, being active in the Woodrow Wilson and Jefferson High school PTAs and Royal Neighbors of America.

The loss is not only to the Brush family, but to the entire Daly City community.

COUNTY HEALTH DIRECTOR EXPLAINS DUTIES BEFORE WESTLAKE PTA WOMEN

San Mateo county health director, Dr. H. D. Chope, explained his duties to an interested audience at the recent meeting of Westlake P. T. A. He explained the organization of the health department which combines the activities ordinarily separated into several departments in other counties. These departments are community county hospital, tuberculosis sanatorium at Redwood City, welfare department and health department. His department employs half of the total number of county employees. Half of the budget administered by the Board of Supervisors goes to the Health Department.

Disease Section
The county hospital has a very fine communicable disease section, he said. The polio patients at Community have available the very latest and complete equipment. A team of doctors specialize in this field and use the most up to date treatment. Community hospital also offers emergency service and advanced psychiatric patients are hospitalized there, he pointed out.

Dr. Chope stated that though polio is a terrible disease, a check of the adult population would show that about 90 per cent was immune, having unknowingly had the ailment at some time. Of diagnosed cases, about 40 per cent are paralytic. Of this group, 50 per cent are entirely without paralysis at the end of a year.

The Tuberculosis sanatorium at Redwood City is one of the finest in the country, Chope declared. Here the county is caring for 104 patients. Tuberculosis is not on the wane there being more cases now than ever before.

Kids Receiving Home
The welfare department operates a receiving home for children of all ages. If conditions at home are such that a temporary home is necessary, a trained staff is there to offer loving care. As soon as possible the child is returned to his home for which there is no good substitute. If longer care is necessary a foster home is found.

Dr. Chope states that San Mateo county has outgrown its hospitals. When Peninsula hospital opens in February, with 135 beds, there will still be less beds in proportion to the population than in 1945. Sequoia hospital in Redwood City is expanding by 100 beds just two years after opening. Inhabitants of the northern end of the county are fortunate in having San Francisco hospitals available where there is no problem of crowding.

The county offers also a visiting nurse service. The school nurse works with the public health nurse in the matter of communicable disease. Following Dr. Chope's informative talk he answered questions from the audience.

Short Meet Held

Mrs. Fred Kruse, PTA president, conducted a short meeting. Francis A. Gates, institutional representative of the Cub Scout pack sponsored by the unit, presented the pack charter to the group and suggested it be framed. Mrs. Don Le Tourneau, chairman of the rag drive, announced that bags will be sent home on Friday, January 22 and rags will be collected at the school on Thursday, January 28. She asked that all rags and clothing be saved for the event. All serviceable clothing is separated and distributed to schools in the state which need them.

Mrs. Kruse urged all who are not registered to do so in order to vote in the spring election. Mr. Watson, in the Westlake Medical Building, is registrar of voters.

The film on cancer which was requested by the members will be shown on Thursday evening, January 21 at 8 p.m. at the school. Come and bring your neighbors, the PTA urges.

Mrs. E. Jick's sixth grade class won the attendance prize. Refreshments of cupcakes and coffee were served by the fourth grade mothers.

Parking on grades calls for extra precautions, according to the National Automobile Club. Motorists should be sure that their brakes are securely set, and should always crank their wheels in against the curb.

Mountain Lake, within the Presidio of San Francisco, is a government protected sanctuary for ducks and gulls.

James Quillen, head of the Stanford University school of education, addresses members of 17th district California Congress of Parents and Teachers on January 21. This meeting, to be held at San Mateo High school auditorium at 7:45 p.m. marks an innovation in 17th district history, being the first time a regular monthly meeting has ever been held in the evening. Special invitations are being sent all boards of trustees in the county, school superintendents and the county office staff.

Each unit president is urged to extend a personal invitation to their principals, teachers and members. It is hoped that many interested Parent-Teacher members who are unable to attend a daytime meeting will take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with their organization on the district level.

At the executive board meeting held last Monday, Ralph Shaw of the San Mateo county recreation commission and 17th district's recreation chairman, announced tentative plans to purchase a large area at Junipero Serra boulevard and Sneath Lane for the benefit of Scouts and other youth groups in the northern part of the county.

Jeffs Launch Championship Drive With Win Over Mateo

Indian Lights Make It A Double Killing

Varsity Heavy Favorite Tonight In Action Against Half Moon Bay

An effective man - to - man defense and the 19-point contribution of forward Don Delbon combined Tuesday to give Jefferson High's varsity a 61-47 win over a San Mateo team that was being plumped for the Peninsula Athletic league championship.

It was the first league contest of the season for Coach Mike Orlich's defending PAL title-holders and the win established them as an odd-favorite to waltz to their second consecutive crown.

30s Also Win

Jefferson's 30s made it a double for the locals, as Coach Tony Giammona's lightweights outscored a straggly San Mateo team, 31 to 23.

The Jeff varsity was never in trouble as they scored off plays with workmanlike regularity. Guard Tom Costello looked polished in adding 15 points to the Indian total and performing yeoman backboard duty.

Also effective on the rebound work was Center John Madden.

In addition to displaying a powerful offensive unit, the Indians defending was something that had the Bearcats cage-confused.

Close Defense

The close man-to-man hounding by the Jeffs held the Mateans two highly-touted stars to piddling point totals.

Jack Finney, Bearcat 6' 4" center, escaped from Madden's clutches only enough to score two field goals.

The other Mateo standout, Bucky Kahler, bucketed 13, a slight sum when compared to some of his early season efforts.

Tonight (Friday) at 7:15 o'clock the Jeff varsity cage machine probably won't have to shift into high gear as they face a lack-luster Half Moon Bay outfit that wound up last place in league standings last year.

The 30s contest, starting the activity at the coastside pavilion tonight, stacks up a little more evenly, with the Half Moon Bay lights ranked well up in pre-season bookings.

Coaches Mike Orlich and Tony Giammona will probably rely on their regular starting line-ups for duty tonight.

The locals jumped to a 13-7 first-quarter lead and were never in danger after that. At half-time, it was Jefferson, 36 to 21. At the close of the third quarter the Indians were running away at 49 to 32.

Reserves Take Over

Orlich sent in the reserves for the fourth period, but the Bearcats could still manage only 15 points, while the Jeffs subs were nearly keeping pace with 12 tallies.

The Daly City 30s, paced by Forward Bill Storch's 10 points, weren't overly impressive in winning from a less impressive San Mateo team.

Despite the fact that their floor play was a bit shaky, the little Indians managed to keep well ahead of the Bearcats throughout the entire game. At first quarter's end it was Jefferson, 10 to 1.

Gooseegg Half

During the second quarter the locals added four more markers, while the opposition got a gooseegg. During the entire first half the Bearcats failed to make a single field goal, their only register on the scoreboard being the one successful free throw.

In the third quarter the Mateans managed to squeak through ten points, making the contest stand at 23-11 in the end of that period.

From there on in, the Jeffs had no worries, as the second team went in and added eight more points.

SARTO MIDGETS DROP TITLE TO PORTOLA

Sarto Midgets had the National league title wrested from them Saturday when they were dumped, 13 to 11, by Portola playground.

In the wide-open style play, Billie Whalen with three hits and Barry Krohn and Mike Kennedy with four free passes apiece kept the Sarto nine in the game at all times until the final inning.

TIRES AND SKIDDING

Another very good reason for keeping your tires inflated to the recommended pressure, according to the National Automobile Club, is that both underinflation and overinflation tend to increase the chance for skidding.

JEFFERSON GRAD ON ROSTER OF POMONA CAGERS

CLAREMONT, Calif. — Richard Bergstresser, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bergstresser, 107 Garden, has tallied 23 times for the Pomona-Claremont basketball squad in their first six games this season. Bergstresser is a student at Pomona College.

The sophomore center was graduated from Jefferson High school in 1952 after transferring from University High in Chicago. With University High Bergstresser won two track, and one soccer and basketball letter, while at Jefferson he was a two year basketball letterman, and competed in the high jump for two years.

Bergstresser was a member of last year's Pomona-Claremont frosh basketball crew which finished second in the SCIAC frosh competition.

Bergstresser has appeared in all the Sagehens' games this season and has the second highest shooting percentage on the squad. Bergstresser has made 45 per cent of his field goal attempts and 50 per cent of his free throw tries good.

To keep from skidding on wet or slippery streets drive at a slow speed, advises the California State Automobile Association. Apply your brakes or gas pedal slowly and easily so that you start or stop smoothly.

Blanchard Figures In SMJC Contest Tonight At CCSF

San Mateo Junior College sends its basketball team to City College of San Francisco tonight (Friday) for a Big Seven game. A hard contest is expected as both teams made a good showing in the recent state tournament held at Modesto Junior College. At Modesto San Mateo defeated Reedley College and Grant Technical College and lost to Pasadena and then to Modesto in the finals of the consolation series.

The game Friday night is the second conference tilt of this season as the Mateans hosted Modesto this Wednesday evening after just having played the same team in the state tournament.

San Mateo's two losses in the tournament were to veteran teams that outran the Mateans.

Pacing the collegians tonight will be Larry Blanchard, former Jeff High great.

Youth Hardball Nine To Be Formed At Church Tomorrow

Formation of an OLPH hardball team to compete in Catholic league competition will take place tomorrow (Saturday) at 1 p.m. at the church grounds.

Walt Gillies, who will manage the team, urged all interested youngsters of the Daly City area to turn out for the sign-ups.

Following the sign-ups, a brief practice will be held at Marchbanks park, he said. Thereafter, the team will hold practice sessions every Saturday.

The team will be known as the OLPH Suds, and will compete in the Peninsula or San Francisco Catholic Youth Organization league. Gillies expect this year's Suds to be an all-new team.

"I have no idea how much talent we'll have until after the first few workouts," he added.

The Catholic league starts in April and lasts three months.

Jaywalkers, points out the National Automobile Club, are a constant menace to the motorist and to themselves. Wise pedestrians cross only at the proper places, take a good look both up and down the street before they cross, keep their heads up and their eyes open. They know that by staying alert, they will stay alive. Don't drive after drinking, advises the National Automobile Club.

Sarto Whips Vogels; Meet Pomona Sun.

Leo Giannecchini, St. Louis Cardinals' bonus choice, pitched a three hitter and allowed one run in leading Sarto A.C. to a 3-1 victory over Les Vogels.

Giannecchini gave up his only run and two hits in the first frame and then settled down to pitch a remaining one-hit ball game. He fanned 11 batters.

Second baseman John Parodi led the hitting attack, knocking in all three runs. The first run came in the fourth inning when Parodi's long fly scored Pfender. A smashing triple in the sixth knocked in Pfender and Ward for the winning tallies.

Sarto will meet Pomona Tile Sunday at 2 p.m. at Marchbanks Park.
